Blackmount Private Wealth Limited (we/us/our/the Firm) will ask you to provide detailed personal information relating to your existing circumstances, your financial situation and, in some cases, your health and family health history (Your Personal Data). We must do this to successfully conduct business. This document is important as it allows us to explain to you what we need to do with Your Personal Data, and the various rights you have in relation to Your Personal Data.

Blackmount Private Wealth Limited (a UK registered company, registered in Scotland with company number SC724182) is the data controller of your personal data and is subject to the Data Protection Act 1998 (“DPA”) and the General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”).

What do we mean by “Your Personal Data”?

Your Personal Data means any information that describes or relates to your personal circumstances. Your Personal Data may identify you directly – for example your name, address, date of birth, national insurance number. Your Personal Data may also identify you indirectly – for example your employment situation, your physical and mental health history, or any other information that could be associated with your cultural or social identity.

In the context of providing assistance to you in relation to financial advice (including on your investments, insurance, finances etc.) Your Personal Data may include:

- Title, name, date of birth, gender, nationality, civil/marital status, contact details, addresses, and documents that are necessary to verify your identity
- Employment and remuneration information (including salary/bonus schemes/overtime/sick pay/other benefits), employment history
- Bank account details, tax information, loans and credit commitments, personal credit history, sources of income and expenditure, family circumstances and details of dependents
- Health status and history, details of treatment and prognosis, medical reports (further details are provided below specifically about the processing we may undertake in relation to this type of information)
- Any pre-existing financial products (investments, insurance, mortgage, and/or finance) and the terms and conditions relating to these.

The basis upon which the firm will deal with Your Personal Data

When we speak with you about your requirements for financial advice (on investments, insurance, finances etc.) we do so on the basis that both parties are entering a contract for the supply of services.

To perform that contract, and to arrange the products you require, we have the right to use Your Personal Data for the purposes detailed below.

Alternatively, either in the course of initial discussions with you or when the contract between us has come to an end for whatever reason, we have the right to use Your Personal Data provided it is in our legitimate business interest to do so and your rights are not affected. For example, we may need to respond to requests from insurance providers, mortgage lenders, and our Compliance Service Provider relating to the advice we have given to you; or contact you to seek feedback on the service you received.

On occasion, we will use Your Personal Data for contractual responsibilities we may owe our regulator, The Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), or for wider compliance with any legal or regulatory obligation to which we might be subject. In such circumstances, we would be processing Your Personal Data to meet a legal, compliance, or other regulatory obligation to which we are subject.

The basis upon which we will process certain parts of Your Personal Data

Where you ask us to assist you with, for example, your insurance – in particular life insurance and insurance that may assist you in the event of an accident or illness – or ethical investments we will ask you for information about your ethnic origin, your health and medical history, and/or religious or philosophical beliefs (Your Special Category Data). We will record and use your Special Category Data to make enquiries of insurance or investment providers in relation to insurance or investment products that may meet your needs and to provide you with advice or guidance regarding the suitability of any product that may be available to you.

If you have parental responsibility for children under the age of 13, it is also very likely that we will record information on our systems that relates to those children and potentially, to their Special Category Data.

The arrangement of certain types of insurance may involve disclosure by you to us of information relating to historic or current criminal convictions or offences (together “Criminal Offense Data”). This is relevant to insurance related activities such as underwriting, claims, and fraud management.

We will use Special Category Data and any Criminal Offense Data in the same way as Your Personal Data generally, as set out in this Client Privacy Notice.

Information on Special Category Data and Criminal Offense Data must be capable of being exchanged freely between insurance intermediaries such as the Firm, and insurance providers to enable clients to secure the important insurance protection that their needs require.

How do we collect Your Personal Data?

You will usually provide information during our initial meetings or conversations with you to establish your circumstances, and needs and preferences in relation to investments, insurance, mortgages, and/or finance etc. You will provide information to us verbally and in writing, including email.

If we use technology solutions to assist in the collection of Your Personal Data (for example, software that can verify your credit status); we will only do this if we have consent from you for us or our nominated processor to access your information in this manner. With regards to electronic ID checks, we would not require your consent but will inform you of how such software operates and the purpose for which it is used.

Where you provide us with personal data relating to others (e.g. your family members), we understand that you either have their consent or are entitled to provide this information to us for subsequent use.
